JOHN E. JENSEN JEFFERSON COUNTY TREASURER

RYAN HAYES Director of Facilities Management

Ryan Hayes has 20 years progressive experience in overall project management, including initiating, planning, implementing, monitoring, and closing all facets of the project. In the last eight of his nine years of experience, Ryan has specifically worked in the public sector, and looks forward to returning to local government where he appreciates being able to not only use his skills and education effectively, but with the purpose of contributing and supporting the community. Ryan also joins Jefferson County understanding that government is generally highly regulated and procedural driven, which produces several layers of review before action is taken...a significant difference with the private sector. With his experience, he has not only fine-tuned his skills, but has learned patience and understanding of the processes local government must take.

As Ryan stated on his resume, he is seeking "an opportunity to contribute to a team of detail-oriented individuals, where I will be able to use my work experience and knowledge to develop innovative solutions in all aspects of facilities and project management while maintaining a high level of industry standards and customer service." As Facilities Manager while with the City of Milwaukee Police and Libraries, a few of his duties and accomplishments included:

- Interacting with command staff to help organize day-to-day operations of the department throughout 13 city wide locations while overseeing all aspects of building operation and fleet maintenance along with full building remodels
- Managing maintenance staff of 92, including custodial services throughout various locations to include project management, contract management, while overseeing contractors and vendors through various projects.
- Managing all aspects of security requirements and standard operating procedures required in a police/library facility, while also maintaining and complying with all local and state safety requirements governed by building codes and inspections.
- Managing operational costs and capital improvement projects annually to comply with budgets and requirements created through city officials, and city purchasing requirements and procurement policies, while maintaining all expenditures within the department and adjusting as needed.
- Introduced electronic tracking and incorporated a software program to streamline our work order process to include preventative maintenance schedules on all facility assets

Outside of work, Ryan likes to keep busy with his family, including his wife and two very active young teens. They support each other's activities and enjoy being outdoors and spending time in St. Germain in northern Wisconsin, or heading south to Sedona, Arizona. When Ryan isn't watching his daughter in competitive dance, or his son in traveling baseball, Ryan enjoys cleaning off his clubs and sneaking away to play golf.

EDUCATION & CREDENTIALS

- B.S., Architectural Design, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
- LEED Certified. Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certification is a globally recognized symbol of sustainability and leadership. The LEED framework informs all building types including new construction, interiors, operations and maintenance, and core and shell.

Note: When it states "as for 2023 budget" this is what is in the 2023 budget that was estimated as carryover, there may be another line item to adjust that amount to actual,
