State Representative Joan Ballweg of the 41st Assembly District talked to the group. She and Senator Luther Olsen are co-chairs of the legislative council study committees on SAGE; as well as holding symposiums on early brain development and personal property tax. She also talked about letting large towns enter into TIF districts, the technical college governance and its taxation funding.

Sara Diedrick-Kasdorf of WCA updated the group on county issues. The WCA would like to get it's legislative agenda for the next State Legislative Session by August 2014. She invited members to join the various steering committees of their interest/choice. The 17 year old juvenile offenders issue is still important, recommendation is to send 17 year old offenders back to the juvenile justice system but with a funding solution.

The county elected officials workshops are in progress and attendance is good. There is talk about conducting periodical webinars on certain topics for county board members.

Pat Schramm of Workforce Development spoke to the group about a couple initiatives being developed by WD including a culinary program that is very successful. She asked the county board chairs to invite Workforce Development to one of their county board meetings.

Steven Deller, Professor of Applied Economics at UW-Madison gave a program on the impact of railroads in Wisconsin, highlighting the impact in jobs as well as secondary impacts to local communities with rail service. A copy of that power point is available.

Moved by Green Lake County to adjourn; second by Marquette County. Motion passed on a voice vote.

Chairman Russ Kottke adjourned the meeting at 11:52 am.
