3. Section 15.08(c) does not allow cul-de-sacs over 1000 ft. Forest Drive South may be over 1,000 feet when adding the existing road. Please check the length of the entire cul-de-sac including the existing part.

8. Approved DNR permit for NR216 provisions associated with storm water management.
9. All erosion control elements shall be installed consistent with plan and consistent with Wisconsin Construction Site Handbook, prior to any excavation on property. Erosion control measures shall be maintained until such time that vegetation has been established preventing soil movement. Oversight of erosion control measures shall be by the engineer that proposed the submitted plan. It is also extremely important that individual lot erosion control measures be strictly enforced by the local building inspector to insure quality of overall erosion control measures.

Re: The need to revisit the requirement for petitioners to obtain town approval prior to consideration by county planning and zoning.

To: Robert Klotz, Director of Planning and Zoning
Members of the Jefferson County Zoning Commission

I am hereby requesting that the requirement for petitioners to obtain a town recommendation prior to consideration by county zoning be dropped. The recommendation from the town has little or no value and adds a great deal of time and expense to the petition process.

Case in point, I want to place a utility storage shed on my property. The location I have chosen will require a variance. I make application to the county for a hearing ($250). The zoning commission will not consider my petition without input from the town. I now go to the town and make application to convene the town plan commission (another $250). They meet on the 1st Monday of the month and requests need to be made 10 days in advance. When the plan commission meets, they make a RECOMMENDATION to the town board. A week later I appear before the town board and provide the exact same information I provided to the plan commission. The town board then makes its RECOMMENDATION back to county zoning. That is a lot of extra time and money to get a recommendation that can be overridden by county zoning.

(Boathouse on Ox Bow, approved by town, disapproved by county)

Jefferson County has ultimate zoning authority. If the town wants to have input on any given petition the town can send representation to the county zoning hearing. This is clearly a case of "too much government" and an unnecessary expense.

Please, streamline the process and reconsider your requirement for a town recommendation.

Respectfully Submitted,
Dave Raymond
