The Committee directed DeVries to prepare an analysis of the costs to resurface the Courthouse parking lot, pave the lot to the east of the Courthouse, demolish the MIS building and pave that lot, add lighting to the western side of the Courthouse and examine further solutions for Courthouse security and if the County financed with a debt issue, what effect that issue would have on the mill rate for the next meeting. ### Accepting Grants from the Compeer Fund for Rural America and the Wisconsin Association of Fairs and amending the 2025 budget in the Fair Park Department

Executive Summary

The Jefferson County Fair hosts a goat exhibit that is growing rapidly. In order to meet the demands of the program, the Fair Park Department has applied for and received grant funding from Compeer Fund for Rural America in the amount of $4,000 and the Wisconsin Association of Fairs in the amount of $1,000 to purchase twelve additional goat pens to work within the existing layout of the Goat Barn. This funding was not anticipated during the 2025 budget process. The pens will cost $4,381 and will be available in time for the Fair. The remaining funds will be spent on other Fair Week expenses. The Fair Park requests to accept these awards and amend the 2025 budget accordingly.

On June 10, 2025, the Finance Committee reviewed the request from the Fair Park Director and recommended forwarding this resolution to the County Board to accept the grant awards and create a budget amendment for 2025.

WHEREAS, the above Executive Summary is incorporated into this resolution, and

WHEREAS, the goat exhibit at the Jefferson County Fair is growing in popularity and is in need of additional goat pens to satisfy the growing demand for exhibits, and

WHEREAS, grant funding is available for the purchase of additional goat pens from Compeer Fund for Rural America and the Wisconsin Association of Fairs in the combined amount of $5 000, and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the 2025 Fair Park Department Budget be amended to include the grant funding from the Compeer Fund for Rural America and the Wisconsin Association of Fairs in the amount of $5,000 and related expenditure.

Fiscal Note: This resolution authorized the Finance Director to make the necessary budget adjustments to enact this resolution. This is a budget amendment. County Board approval requires a two-thirds vote of the entire membership of the County Board (20 votes of the 30 member County Board).

RESOLUTION NO. 2025-XX

Accepting bids for roof replacement to the Goat Barn and portions of the Sheep Barn

Executive Summary

Jefferson County Fair Park sustained property damage to several items on campus March 16th. The Goat Barn and a portion of the Sheep Barn were substantially damaged, removing several roof panels and loosening or removing up to 40% the roof fasteners. Both these roofs have exceeded their designed life cycle and should be replaced before incurring additional water damage and flying debris risks.

On April 24, 2025 The Jefferson Director of Facilities issued a request for proposals (RFP) to solicit bids for the removal and replacement of the Goat Barn and partial removal and replacement of the Sheep Barn roofs. A total of three proposals were received by the May 22, 2025 deadline. The lowest qualified bidder was C&C Group, LLC with a total cost of $89,250. The bid documents created a unit price allowance to repair roof framing items on an as needed unit cost basis. The contract sum will be adjusted by change order upon completion of the project once all repair instances can be subtotaled. We recommend an allowance of $20,000, for a project total of $109,250. The Director of Facilities checked references to ensure that this bidder would be able to perform the work as required and received positive responses.

On June xx, 2025 the Finance Committee considered the proposal and recommended X-0 to move forward with C&C Group, LLC to conduct the roofing project as specified in the RFP at an estimated project price of $109,250.

WHEREAS, the Executive Summary is incorporated into this resolution, and

WHEREAS, Jefferson County solicited bids for the removal and replacement of the Goat Barn and partial removal and replacement of the Sheep Barn roofs, and

WHEREAS, such bids were received and opened on May 22, 2025, with the following results:

	Glover Metal Bldgs.	Preferred Panels	C&C Services	Royale Construction	Custom Metal Specialist	Meco Erection, Inc.
Base bid	Withdrew	167,100	89,350	278,672	no bid	no bid
Unit price		115 labor on	200	290
Allowance		23,000	20,000	29,000
Subtotal		190,100	109,350	307,672

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the County Administrator is authorized to enter into a contract with the lowest responsible bidder, C&C Group for $89,250, for the removal and replacement of the Goat Barn and partial removal and replacement of the Sheep Barn roofs.

Fiscal Note: On March 11, 2025 the County Board of Supervisors approved $90,000 in carryover funding for capital needs at the Fair Park and also $30,000 for a feasibility study. The Finance Committee has determined that the need to repair existing facilities and bring deferred maintenance up to date exceeds the current need for a feasibility study. This resolution authorizes the use of the $30,000 formerly reserved for a feasibility study to be applied toward the roofing repairs in the Goat and Sheep barns.

Insurance glossary /

Additional insured

In an insurance policy, an additional insured refers to anyone other than the policyholder who is covered by an insurance policy. Coverage might be limited to a single event or it could last for the policy's lifetime.

What is an additional insured endorsement?

Both individuals and groups can be given additional insured status, but their protection is more limited than that of the policyholder. The specifics depend on the policy, but an additional insured endorsement typically affords some crucial protection.

Additional insured covers when a third party (i.e., someone who doesn't work for your business) sues your additional insured, your policy can address the claim. That way, legal defense fees, court fees, and settlement or judgment costs don't come out of the additional insured's pocket.

It also covers claims of bodily injuries, property damage, and advertising injuries (e.g., libel, slander, or copyright infringement).

Depending on your industry, additional insured addendums are a fairly common practice. For instance, suppliers or subcontractors may benefit from additional insured status when they work on your premises or on behalf of your business. By contrast, if you subcontract with a company, you may require additional insured protection for yourself before working with another business.

What is the difference between a primary insured and an additional insured?

Simply put, the primary insured is the policyholder, also known as the named insured. This is typically the small business owner who purchases the policy on behalf of the company.

The additional insured is anyone the primary policyholder adds to the policy. Generally speaking, the additional insured benefits from the policy, but does not manage it.

How does a blanket additional insured endorsement differ?

An additional insured endorsement can be used to provide many different levels of coverage. A blanket additional insured endorsement provides the same coverage to a group of people who aren't required to be specifically named, such as drivers or subcontractors.

For example, on a commercial auto insurance policy, a blanket additional insured endorsement provides the same coverage for any driver of your company vehicle. It's a common feature of many liability policies.

A standard additional insured, unlike a blanket insured, requires the parties to be named specifically on the policy.

Which policies are eligible for additional insured endorsements?

You can add an additional insured to several small business insurance policies. The most common policies include:

- Commercial general liability (CGL) insurance. You can add an additional insured endorsement to your commercial general liability policy. This often looks like adding general contractors, suppliers, and vendors to your policy to cover them while they work with your business.
- Commercial auto insurance. If you need to add a third party or business partner to your commercial auto insurance policy, you can add them as an additional insured. You can choose between blanket additional insured endorsement, which covers any third party, or a limited endorsement that covers for specific risks and liabilities.
- Commercial property insurance. Many small businesses opt to add third parties, such as property managers and subcontractors, to their commercial property policy. Some commercial leases require this as a rental condition.

Speak to a licensed insurance agent about your business's specific insurance coverage needs.

Additional insured endorsements are often included with:

GENERAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

COMMERCIAL AUTO INSURANCE

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY INSURANCE

An additional insured refers to anyone other than the policyholder who is covered by an insurance policy. Coverage might be limited to a single event or it could last for the policy's lifetime.

When should I add someone as an additional insured?

New clients or partners may ask to be included as additional insureds in your insurance policy before they will sign a contract. For the most part, clients and partners will let you know when they require additional insured status in order to work with you.

Though you could theoretically name an additional insured for whatever reason you want, these two scenarios are most common:

- You're a contractor / subcontractor / business owner, and your client asks to be named as an additional insured on your policy.
- You hire a contractor / subcontractor, and you ask to be named as an additional insured on their policy.

You may ask to be named as an additional insured to provide your business with more liability coverage. For example, say you use a contractor on a project who causes an accident that leads to you being sued. If you're an additional insured on the contractor's policy, you can make a claim to pay for the damages and legal fees, rather than relying on your own insurance.

Most companies include language in their contracts for contractors to provide indemnity, or pay for, any liability lawsuits that stem from their work. Companies want assurance that contractors have the means to compensate them in a worst-case scenario, which is why they often ask for additional insured status, too.

Common scenarios for adding an additional insured

When might you want to consider adding an additional insured to your existing insurance policies? Consider the following examples.

- A consulting office hires a cleaning service to assist with regular janitorial services. Their rental lease requires all contractors to be added as additional insureds on the commercial property policy.
- A construction company needs its subcontractor to assist with operating heavy machinery, which requires commercial auto coverage. They add the subcontractor as an additional insured for the duration of the project.
- A landscaping business hires additional workers to help out during a particularly busy season. They add their temporary employees as additional insureds to their general liability policy to ensure that the business is covered in the event of customer property damage or bodily injuries.

Guaranteeing that all necessary third parties are covered is an important part of an effective risk management strategy. It also helps small businesses develop strong business relationships with vendors, property managers, and other business partners.

How to add an additional insured to an insurance policy

To add an additional insured to an insurance policy, consult an Insureon insurance agent and review the policy, identify whether an additional insured can be added, and assess the level of coverage the additional insured is requesting.

You'll typically need to fill out an additional insured endorsement form. There are a large number of forms available, so make sure to ask your agent for assistance.

Your agent will let you know what limitations apply for the additional insured and can answer any other questions about the policy. If the additional insured is covered for the life of the policy, you may want to just check in and make sure nothing has changed when it's time to renew the policy or make other changes.

Lastly, when it comes to subcontractors, you can add them as additional insureds, but you may also want to require them to carry their own insurance. Each policy is different, so the extent of protection an additional insured receives is variable.

What are the limitations of additional insured status?

There are some notable limitations to additional insured coverage, such as:

- The endorsement may offer coverage for only a limited type of liability (e.g., vicarious liability).
- Additional insureds typically can't be added to a professional liability insurance policy. Insurance companies will likely argue that the client is not a licensed professional and therefore can't be held to the same standard of care. That would preclude the client from being insured under the policy for acts of professional negligence or mistakes.
- A workers' compensation policy also cannot have additional insured amendments, though you can add a waiver of subrogation, which acts similarly.

Tech businesses may be able to negotiate an exception to these general rules around additional insured for professional liability (tech E&O) policies, but it depends on the carrier and coverage. Speak to a licensed insurance agent for more information.

Certificates of insurance for additional insureds

Business partners, clients, and subcontractors can ask for proof of their additional insured status by requesting to see the policyholder's certificate of insurance \(COI\). This document lists the commercial policy and its insureds.

If a business needs to use the additional insured protection, the certificate of liability insurance offers the certificate holder the necessary information to begin the claims process.

April 2025 Budget Variance Report Analysis
Morgan Toutant

A. Revenue Analysis: The month of April is closed and, therefore, the County is 1/3 of the way through 2025. I anticipate seeing 33.34% collected for department revenue. My horizontal analysis will be based off how the 2025 collection percentage compares to 2023 and 2024. My vertical analysis will be based off how relative the 2025 collection percentage is to 100%. The departments that are noted below are outliers to what is expected.

1. Administration: Administration is under collected as of April 2025. Like March, reporting and delayed collection of first quarter funding from the TAD Grant is driving this percentage.
2. Child Support: Despite being relative to the last three years, Child Support is under collected in April. This is due to typically low collection (22%) of state aid. Child Support is grant funded and bills in arrears which is the reason for the apparent undercollection.
3. County Clerk: Like March, revenue collected for annual election software maintenance/renewals as well as passport renewals/photos are the driving factors to County Clerk's over collection in April.
4. Economic Development: Economic Development is over collected at 49%. This is due to the expected full collection of Jefferson County consortium fees. Excluding this factor, Economic Development is 32% collected.
5. Emergency Management: Reminder that funding for the EPCRA Grant as well as the EMPG Grant are allocated at the end of the year. Excluding these factors, Emergency Management is 35% collected.
6. Fair Park: As a whole, Fair Park is 10% collected in April. This percentage is best analyzed by isolating the org code data:
  - Fair Park (12101): Fair Park is under collected at 25%. The driving factors to this percentage are building rentals, sponsor revenue, winter storage rental, and camping fees. As the year progresses, these primary avenues of revenue will also progress.
  - Fair Week (12102): Expectedly, Fair Week is 2% collected as of April 2025. As Fair Week approaches, this will increase.
7. General Revenue & Expenditure: April sales tax collection is relative to the last three years. Despite this, annualized projections using this trend data indicate a minor budget shortfall in 2025. This will be monitored continually throughout the year.
8. Health: Like March, typical delays in receiving state and federal aid are driving this low percentage in April. Reminder that grants are billed in arrears and collections are usually at least a month behind.
9. Highway: The Highway Department is under collected at 28%. Like March, this is due to not yet receiving grant funds for LRIP.

April 2025 Budget Variance Report Analysis
Morgan Toutant

10. Human Services: Human Services is under collected at 15%. Reminder that state aid for various programs offered by Human Services is collected in arrears throughout the year.
11. Internal Services Fund: The Internal Services Fund is slightly below expectation at 29%. Like March, this is due to the sale of county fleet vehicles not yet taking place.
12. Land & Water Conservation: As of April, Land & Water Conservation is under collected at 28%. Reminder that funding for the DATCP Staffing Grant is historically received in the 4th quarter.
13. Medical Examiner: At 30%, the Medical Examiner is lower than expected. This is primarily due to a 20% collection in cremation fees as of April 30th. This has been typical for the last three years.
14. Parks: The Parks Department is under collect at 13%. Like March, budgeted Interurban Bike Trail TAP Grant revenue and restricted donations have not been collected in April and are the driving forces to this low percentage. Excluding these factors, Parks is 31% collected.
15. Planning and Zoning: The Deer Track Park charges revenue continues to drive the low overall collection percentage for Planning and Zoning. Reminder that Deer Track Park charges are received by the end of the year. Planning and Zoning is otherwise 33% collected, excluding this factor.
16. Register of Deeds: Register of Deeds is over collected at 42%. The transfer fees associated with the sale of an agricultural business in January continue to drive this high percentage. Excluding this sale's fees, Register of Deeds is 33% collected in April.
17. Treasurer: The Treasurer's office is over collected at 203%. Interest and dividends are the primary contributing factors to this percentage. When compared to 2023 (84%) and 2024 (69%), 2025 is on the lower end of collection at 50%. This will continue to be monitored as the year progresses.

B. Expense Analysis: Like the Revenue Analysis, below are the departments that are outliers to what is expected at this point in the year.

1. Administration: Administration is 8% spent as of April 30th. Expenses not yet occurring for the Live Local Development Fund, Highway site remediation, and EMS planning continue to drive this low percentage.
2. Capital Projects and Debt: As expected, Capital Projects and Debt is 101% spent with the conclusion of the courthouse project.
3. Central Services: Central Services is under spent in April. Like March, this is due to building improvement expenses not yet occurring. These projects include an elevator switch replacement, LEC lint trap improvement, replacement of the jail door operator system, and sidewalk replacement.
4. Child Support: An open position in the Child Support Department continues to drive the lower-than-expected spending into April.
5. Clerk of Courts: At 28%, Clerk of Courts is underspent. An open position and the benefits associated with it continue to drive this percentage in April. Additionally, lower-than-expected spending on interpreter fees is driving this overall percentage.
6. County Board: County Board is overspent at 49%. This is historically typical and due to the annual JCEDC fee allocation. Without these expenses, County Board is 31% spent as of April 30th.
7. County Clerk: The expenses for property, auto liability, and other insurance annual renewals continue to drive the high percentage in April for County Clerk. Excluding these expenses, County Clerk is overspent at 44%. This is due to election ballot printing and election equipment maintenance.
8. Economic Development: Economic Development is overspent at 38%. The main contributing factor to this high percentage is retainer fees within other professional services. These expenses are 69% spent as of April 30th. Annual contribution to the railroad consortium is also contributing to this percentage.
9. Emergency Management: Professional service expenses associated with the BRIC Grant, Flood Mitigation Grant as well as the Pre-Disaster Mitigation Grant are the main contributing factors for Emergency Management's overspending in April. Excluding these expenses, Emergency Management is 33% spent.

10. Fair Park: As of April 2025, Fair Park is 12% spent. This percentage is best analyzed by isolating the org code data:
  - Fair Park (12101): Fair Park is underspent at 26%. Like March, zero spending on a feasibility study as well as capital maintenance projects is driving this lower-than-expected percentage. Excluding this, Fair Park is 31% spent in April.
  - Fair Week (12102): As expected, Fair Week is 3% sent in April. As Fair Week approaches, this will increase.
11. Finance: Relative to the last three years, Finance is 29% spent in April. This is due to employee dental claims and will continue to be monitored as the year progresses.
12. Highway: The Highway Department is underspent at 25%. Like March, open positions as well as the benefits associated with them are driving this low percentage.
13. Human Resources: Like March, Human Resources is underspent due to the open safety position and the benefits associated with the position.
14. Internal Service Fund: Internal Service Fund is overspent at 36%. Computer support renewals and other essential network contract expenses continue to drive this percentage in April. Excluding these factors, the Internal Service Fund is 29% spent.
15. Land and Water Conservation: Land and Water Conservation is underspent as of April 30th. Zero spending for the PACE program, minimal spending on cost share payments for the DATCP program, as well as zero spending for the Multi-Discharger Grant are the driving factors to this overall percentage in April.
16. Land Information: At 39%, Land Information is overspent. Like March, this is due to the annual renewal of GIS and File Director software as well as expenses associated with aerial photos for the GIS system. Excluding these factors, Land Information is 33% spent in April.
17. Medical Examiner: Medical Examiner is underspent at 26%. Relative to the last three years, low spending on autopsies driving this percentage.
18. Parks: At 18%, the Parks Department is underspent in April. Like March, this is due to spending that has not yet taken place for the Interurban Bike Trail TAP Grant.
19. Planning and Zoning: Planning and Zoning is underspent at 25%. A previously open position within the department as well as low spending associated with the DATCP Drug Grant/Clean Sweep program are driving this low percentage.
20. Register of Deeds: Like March, the 2025 license renewal for AVID/Laredo software in the Register of Deeds Department is driving the overspending in April. Without this expense, ROD is 32% spent.

21. Treasurer: The Treasurer's office is overspent at 39%. Like March, this is due to foreclosure taxes on various parcels in Jefferson County for 2024. Without these expenses, the Treasurer's office is 30% spent.
22. UW-Extension: At 19%, UW-Extension is underspent. This is primarily due to spending that has not yet taken place for the Jefferson County Educator Contracts in 2025. This is typically a bi-annual payment with the first being in May. Additionally, costs associated with replacing the A/V systems have not occurred and are contributing factors to this percentage.

Achieving More Together

UW-Madison Division of Extension works alongside the people of Wisconsin throughout urban and rural communities to deliver practical educational programs where people live and work. In Jefferson County, FoodWise partners with Head Start programs, senior meal programs, and food pantries to help make the healthy choice the easy choice in our communities.

Community

Impacts in 2024

Engaged with 754 learners around nutrition education topics in a variety of settings, including early care, senior dining sites, subsidized housing sites, and food pantries.

The FoodWise team collaborated with the UW Whitewater Food Pantry which serves low-income students on Campus. We inventoried pantry items and provided healthy recipes to help students prepare meals with available ingredients.

Inspiring Collaborations

Many residents in subsidized housing rely on local food pantries for their groceries. However, they sometimes receive ingredients that they think they don't like or don't know how to use. Some of these included canned beef and chicken, whole wheat pasta, and beans. As a result, they discard these items in the community room for others to use. To address this issue, the Jefferson County FoodWise team conducted a 5-week cooking series to help residents utilize these commonly discarded items.

Our team reviewed and identified the most commonly discarded ingredients in the community room. We organized weekly cooking sessions over five weeks, where residents could taste and learn to cook with these ingredients. Each session included the distribution of easy-to-follow recipes featuring the highlighted ingredient.

Growing Healthy Families through Nutrition Education for Kids and Caregivers

The Jefferson County FoodWise team provided nutrition education to preschoolers in 10 classrooms, where they learned about the importance of eating fruits and vegetables and staying active through regular exercise. The hands-on lessons were designed to engage young children and help them understand healthy habits in a fun and interactive way.

In addition to working with the children, we partnered with parents to offer valuable food safety information and practical tips on budgeting for healthy foods. These parent presentations were conducted virtually, ensuring accessibility, and were delivered in both English and Spanish to reach a broader audience.

These sessions not only supported families in making healthier choices but also helped our partner fulfill a key program requirement, demonstrating the collaborative impact of this initiative on both children and their caregivers.
